The Bowling Green Times says: "There was a business meeting of the Third Regiment U. S. R. P. at the Thunders, of Central City, was elected Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment and John P. Campbell, of Hopkinsville, Major. Being dead, Division of the United States of this city is making arrangements to attend the grand lodge meeting at Kansas City. There are now five regiments in the State and they will all go to Kansas City."

The following dispatch from Owensboro appeared in the Louisville Post Tuesday afternoon: "A fight is on between Frank L. Hancock, a pension attorney and publisher of the Kentucky Sentinel, and the Board of Examining Surgeons at Owensboro, who have been ordered to discontinue the publication of the Kentucky Sentinel. The Sentinel is excluded from the mails pending an investigation. A determined effort is being made to deliver Hancock from prison as a pension attorney. Members of the Board of Surgeons declare that Hancock must be delivered from prison, or they will resign." Hancock formerly made periodicals, and to this city still has a number of unpaid bills here, one of them due this office, which was finally charged up to profit and loss after a colored collector had worn out a pair of shoes trying to collect it.
